WINTER PARK ENJOYS BRILLIANT EVENTS OF ROLLINS COLLEGE FOUNDERS’ WEEK

The atmosphere of Winter Park during Founders’ Week seemed doubly exhilarating. Not only the warm sunshine and soft breezes laden with the perfume of orange blossoms, but the consciousness of men and women who mean much in the world today come to bring us their messages stimulated the responsive heart.

Outstanding events were the College Dinner on Saturday evening, the Animated Magazine on Sunday afternoon and the Convocation on Monday.

Loyal friends of Rollins filled the large Commons dining hall making a brilliant scene.

Speakers were Ralph Adams Cram, who made a plea for the value of beauty in religion, and Arthur Sweetser, told of the work of the League of Nations of which he has been an official since its inception. Mr. Sweetser expressed his conviction that the League would win out despite its present low vitality.

Following the dinner the whole company attended a showing of the Walt Disney movie “Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs” at the Annie Russell Theatre.

After the earnest, serious speeches of Dr. Cram and Mr. Sweetser it seemed as if this was indeed an instance of the truth of the Biblical saying “A little child shall lead them”. The distinguished audience, savants and men of affairs, were all completely won by the charm of little Snow White and they must have appreciated how the old witch was just another form of Dictator trying to spoil the goodness of life.

The keynote of the Magazine was struck by Dale Carnegie, the man who has set people thinking how to get along in the world by trying to please other folk. Mr. Carnegie pointed out that the great desire of all people is to be appreciated. He might well have picked out our own Dr. Holt as one who has made a fine art of appreciating people and helping them to get appreciation.

Among the high spots of the fifteen contributions were those of Henry R. Luce, publisher of “Time”, and Ralph Adams Cram, the famous architect. Mr. Luce and Ralph Adams Cram, the famous architect. Mr. Luce (Continued on Page 4)

DR. LUCE TO LECTURE ON CHINESE COLLEGES

On Tuesday evening March 1st Dr. Henry W. Luce will lecture in the Congregational Church on "Chinese Colleges in Peace and War." Dr. Luce is President Emeritus of Yenching University in China—sometimes called "the most beautiful college in the world" with its campus of over two hundred acres. Dr. Luce at the conclusion of his lecture will answer questions.

Dr. Luce has traveled all over China and has spent thirty years there. He has even written five books in Chinese. So he knows and understands the Chinese people. Many will be interested to know that Dr. Luce is the father of Henry R. Luce, Editor of "Time", "Life" and the publisher of "Penthouse".

All are cordially invited to the lecture—a free will offering for the work of the young people of the church will be received.

ADMIRAL BYRD GUEST OF KAPPA ALPHA

On Monday, February 21st, the Rollins chapter of Kappa Alpha honored their distinguished member, Admiral Richard E. Byrd with a luncheon at the Dubshead Country Club.

In response to popular demand he told in a highly interesting and informal manner of his experiences on his two polar expeditions. Admiral Byrd is the only man who has flown over both the North and South poles and his first-hand information made possible a clear conception of the vast differences in evidence at these two extremities.

"The South pole" he said "is in the flood-tide of an ice age such as once capped the northern hemisphere as far south as New York state. And while the north pole now has abundant plant and animal life the South pole is relatively barren; the Emperor penguin being the only survivor to withstand the cold that sometimes drops to 83 degrees below zero and the winds that reach a velocity of 150 miles an hour."

"The most apparent difference of the two regions," he continued, "is in the 10,000 foot deep ocean at the Arctic, and the Antarctic range of mountains that rise to a height of 30,000 feet."

The Vogue features hats that positively sing... Hats with sparkle... youth... dash. Dressey hats that stand out from the crowd... A vivacious line, full of pep and personality.

The Bach Choir of Winter Park, which had 110 voices last year, will be composed of more than 150 singers for the coming festival, and will be composed of "unit" choirs from a half dozen cities in Florida.

A final rehearsal of the entire choir will take place next Wednesday night in Knowles Memorial Chapel, under the direction of Mr. Homans. The entire nave and the seats in Frances chapel will be reserved for sponsors of the Festival and for close relatives of the choir members from the non-student units of the choir. Each sponsor has been given two cards of admission and each chorister one card of admission for each of the three programs.

Seats for the general public will be available in the balcony and a limited number of chairs will be placed in the cloisters in the chapel garden for the public also.

"Death!" "Democracy is the only form of government for adult nations," says Martin, delivering his lecture on democracy. "Freedom, political freedom, and economic freedom, which we must have, are: National wealth and well-being of a nation depends not upon bank entries, but on the productivity of the physical plant of the country. Our government is for the people. "Bill of Rights" will be enjoyed sooner or later. "That's a point that ought to be settled."

In the democracy of the United States, we enjoy the freedom of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness; Germany and Italy have no personal freedom, and Russia has not one of the three. The official organ of the Black Shirts states that, "There is no personality of any value compared to that of the state!" But Senor Madariaga, on his visit to Winter Park, said, "Democracy is not suited for all nations or for all countries.

"THE PLAY'S THE THING"

Now that the Animated Magazine has folded its wings and gone to rest—until next February, Winter Park will devote some of its attention, next Monday night, to its own young people, among whom will be some of the "captains" and "kings", of a fast-approaching tomorrow. On this Monday night, February 26th, at 8:30 o'clock, in the Winter Park High School Auditorium, the Junior Class of the High School will present its annual play—an event of interest, not only to parents, but to the general public as well. The very capable Miss Ruth Leaman, director of dramatics, who has produced other plays, with outstanding success is in charge of this production. The play is a modern, domestic comedy in three acts, entitled "Shirt Sleeves" and written by Charles Burdette. The story of the play is interesting and exciting and deals with a most difficult problem, in everyday life, which is worked out in an unusual way. Strength, beauty and humor are combined in the various situations, in the comedy, and of course there is the villain—a very modern one!

"The large cast has been chosen carefully and includes: Wallace Schulte, Betty Pope, Redly Tallom, Juanita Johnson, Mildred Woodford, George Clark, Gertrude Muskewthite, Lorraine Leedy, Rev. Verder, Jr., Paul Harris, Robert Sheldon, Warren Thomas, Marion Roberts, John Grass, Flora Harris, Joanne Fisher, Robert Wyckoff.

"TREE-TOPS", NEW HOME OF DR. AND MRS. JEWETT

One of the most successful modernistic houses in Winter Park is that designed last year by Jas. Gamble Rogers, of Orlando. Dr. Eugene L. Jewett, who designed the house, faced with glass bricks, laid out on modern lines, is the latter incidentally, designated by Mr. Rogers.

Situated on East Park Ave., in the orange grove of Dr. and Mrs. Shippen, adjoining the estate of Irving Bacheller, it presents a strong contrast to "Casa Feliz", the Shippen house near by, its brilliant, sharp, white outlines a perfect foil to the soft, red-tiled pinkish-brown roof terrace at sunset with billowy clouds of rose-tinted Florida clouds. From the hall-way the tower stairs lead up to the living room, bedroom and study. No ordinary stairs, those! You are walking, it would seem, on velvety sable skins—Mrs. Jewett's clever stencilling on white felt stair carpet.

The interior of the house arms whatever prejudice one may have against "modernistic"—so the Jewetts' friends say. On the ground floor, independent of the two-car garage, are the maid's apartment, the electrified kitchen, and a little dining-room. The hands of the artistic decorator begins at once to be seen. The dining room has white iron furniture, a glass-topped table big enough for six, on which is an intriguing centerpiece of affectionate gasolines, surrounded by flowers. On the walls are specimens of Mexican art dishes, mirrors, sconces, and a star lantern brought from Taxco by their parents, anticipating the Jewett's tin wedding this year.

The construction of the Dr. Jewett residence from designs of Jas. Gamble Rogers is respectfully submitted to prospective home builders as an example of my workmanship.

GARDEN CLUB'S TOUR
BREACKS THE RECORD

Mrs. Gordon Jones, president of the Garden Club evidently had inside influence with the Weather Man and arranged everything so that the year's annual tour of the Club would be the greatest success ever, and it was, financially as well as meteorologically, for the receipts were $507.00, quite a little more than last year, and the day was never finer. The gardens were aglow with colorfull flowers, and many rare and unusual plants and trees were seen and admired. At the Kraft Avenida Garden dainty refreshments were served by members of the club. Appreciation is extended to those who helped make the tour such a success.

THE ORLANDO HORSE SHOW

Entries are pouring into the Orlando Horse Show. Officers announced today, that due to popular demand, 5 extra classes have been added, making a total of 54 classes to be held in the Orlando Horse Show, March 4th, 5th and 6th. Horses are expected to arrive tomorrow, from Dyersburg, Tennessee. Miss Ida Mae Monroe, owner of Monroe's Garden Club evidently had inside influence with the Weather Man and arranged everything so that the year's annual tour of the Club would be the greatest success ever, and it was, financially as well as meteorologically, for the receipts were $507.00, quite a little more than last year, and the day was never finer. How to make a successful entry at the Flower Show — offers expert advice to Winter Park's fair femininity who want to look their best at the 13th Annual Flower Show on Tuesday and Wednesday, March 8th and 9th,—visit our style shops and select the costume that the judges will have to admire.

The prettiest flowers exhibited will have to meet the competition of lovely women who know how to make the most effective use of the stunning raiment that Spring has also designed for them. In Dickson-Ives exclusive SOUTHLAND FASHIONS will be found the answer to your own appearance at the Show.
