Dr. Riggs asks help for Anatolia College

Outpost of American Ideals in Greece

On Tuesday afternoon of this week, Mrs. Albert Shaw returned from New York to open her home to a large number of guests at the reception given in honor of President Riggs and Mrs. Riggs of Anatolia College, of which Dr. Shaw has been a trustee for many years. Mrs. W. F. Foster and Mrs. Anderson Twachman assisted Mrs. Shaw at hostess.

In introducing President Riggs, Dr. Edwin O. Grover pointed out that Rollins College and Anatolia were born in the same year under the same auspices, the Congregational denomination, one at Winter Park and the other in that part of Asia Minor known as Anatolia.

In a brief address, President Riggs explained that in 1937, Mrs. D'Albert Lake, a member of the French underground, fought the Nazi Gestapo as a member of the French underground. In Paris, France, who single-handedly made her home in Paris. Philippe A. D'Albert Lake, a graduate of Rollins College, was her husband. Mrs. Lake's achievements were described by Dean Cleveland in the following presentation:

The Rollins Decoration of Honor is given by the Trustees of Rollins College in recognition of distinguished service. It is awarded only to Trustees, members of the Faculty, the executive staff, alumni or friends of the College whose services have a real and significant contribution to the progress and welfare of Rollins. Under the regulations of the Board of Trustees, the Decoration is to be worn by the recipients at academic occasions of Rollins, or whenever they wear the formal academic costume of the college. This morning we have put one candidate for the Rollins Decoration of Honor, a Rollins Alumna and a resident of this State.

VIRGINIA ROUSH D'ALBERT-LAKE graduated from Rollins College with the degree of A.B. in 1929, with a record highly creditable to herself and to her Alma Mater. The following year while travelling in Europe she met Philippe J. A. D'Albert Lake, a citizen of France, whom she married in 1937, and she has since made her home in Paris. Beginning in 1943 Mrs. D'Albert Lake assisted her husband in the supremely hazardous undertaking of helping British and American airmen to escape from occupied France through the underground (Continued on page 6).

The Rollins Decoration of Honor

International understanding and peace and justice for the common people of the world were the themes of the "One World Issue" of the 20th "Animated Magazine" and the following Annual Convocation of Rollins College which took place last Sunday and Monday. Distinguished men and women who are on the front line of the struggle to bring about a better world discussed in realistic detail the difficulties that must be solved to prevent war and assure peace.

As if to corroborate faith in the cause of the common people a high tribute and an ovation were paid to a heroic woman who well represented them in their eternal struggle against injustice and tyranny, Mrs. Virginia Roush d'Albert Lake, of St. Petersburg, Florida, and a graduate of Rollins College in 1937, and she has since married in 1937, and she has since (Continued on page 6).

route. She thus heroically devoted all her time and energies for the following months, risking her life daily in fighting her country's and its allies' war in occupied France. She girded around Paris and out of Paris to Central France many aviators, almost none of whom spoke French, and most of whom were but poorly disguised in French civilian clothes. Many of these aviators were held in her Paris apartment or at her country home nearby.

In June 1944 she had the misfortune to be arrested by a chance German road patrol while she was guiding some aviators to a special place of safety. This hiding place was the center of one of the most successful evasion operations at the war. She had no presence of mind to dispose of a list she was carrying which contained all too accurate information. No other member of the underground organization was arrested as a result of her subterfuge.

During the year of her captivity, MRS. D'ALBERT LAKE was in seven different concentration camps and prisons, one of which was the infamous Ravensbrück where there were between forty and fifty thousand women prisoners. Many were sent from there to work in German munition factories. Mrs. D'ALBERT LAKE along with two hundred and fifty who refused to work was sentenced to death. She escaped from the camp weighing 140 pounds. She left it weighing 85. She witnessed the death of all but 25 of the inmates. These survivors have related in their personal diaries and journals the experiences of their captivity. She entered a list she was carrying which contained all too accurate information. No other member of the underground organization was arrested as a result of her subterfuge.

Mr. President, I have the honor of presenting Alexander Wilbourne Weddell for the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities.

President Holt:
Alexander Wilbourne Weddell, Diplomat, statesman, peace-maker, historian and author, for your national public and private service and in particular for the helpful guidance you have given this college in its Latin-American program, Rollins College confers upon you the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities and admits you to all its rights and privileges.

By Dr. Walter Dill Scott:
Kathryn Abbey Hanna is a woman of achievement and promise. She received her A.B., A.M., and Ph.D. degrees at Northwestern University. For five years she was a member of the faculty of Bowdoin College, and for fifteen years was head of the Department of History, Geography and Political Science in the Florida State College for Women.

She has served on many committees, governmental and otherwise. She is the author of monographs in American history and of popular articles on foreign affairs. She has contributed historical material, especially on Latin America, to historical journals. Perhaps her magnum opus is FLORIDA, LAND OF CHANGE, which is generally considered the best general book on Florida yet written. At present she is engaged in writing two books, one on Lake Okeechobee, the other on Mexico, in collaboration with the gentlemen who persuaded her to intensify her field of influence from Tallahassee to Winter Park. In fact, she has studied, taught, written and lectured for over twenty years on subjects of vital moment to the American people. With this in mind, there is nothing to which she thinks she may go—whether in politics or in letters.

President Holt:
Kathryn Abbey Hanna, historian, political scientist, authority on contemporary life and thought, is one of the women of Rollins and of Florida of what a scholar and his leadership has done as much to humanize economics as Reed College, the first American college president to put into practice many of the educational reforms which numerous educators had preached but never practiced. After he resigned from Reed College, leaving that institution a beacon light in progressive education, he served as a member of the Red Cross Commission to Europe, where he dared to break away from the conventionalism that has encrusted so many American institutions of higher learning. In fact, he was the first American college president to put into practice many of the educational reforms which numerous educators had preached but never practiced.

DR. SHIPPEN PRAISES ANGNA ENTERS

Several years ago, in Boston, it was my good fortune to see Angna Enters, an unforgettable experience, entertainment on the highest level. Called "the first minute of our day," Miss Enters is much more than that, going far beyond min-humble and, we might say, bourgeois form of amusement. She is essentially an artist in whom creative imagination is the supreme gift. Her versatility is extraordinary. She is able to portray to the life a New York sophisticate, chic and vulgar, as well as the next moment, able to give moving reality to a mediaeval conception of the Madonna, all grace and compassion. I cannot speak of her creations as painter and sculptor, displayed in her one-woman shows at the Metropolitan Museum of Art and elsewhere. It is enough that she is a consummate actress. Cosmopolitan Winter Park is qualified to appreciate when she appears here next Tuesday evening in the High School auditorium.

DR. HOSIC TO SPEAK ON U. S. AS WORLD POWER

In the John Martin Lecture Series at the Congregational Church on March 6 at 4 P.M. Dr. James Fleming Hosic will take stock of the firmest of the United States to play a leading part in establishing world peace. Do we have the good will and confidence of other nations? Do we have a defensible foreign policy or any policy at all on which we are agreed? How do our domestic affairs and national character—our actual way of life—commend us to our neighbors? What do we favor, democracy or fascism? What, if anything, can the ordinary citizen do about present conditions either at home or abroad?

Dr. Hosic is well-known as a lecturer on educational and civic questions. He was for sixteen years director of the Extension Division of Teacher College, Columbia University, and has appeared before audiences in nearly all the larger cities in thirty-five states. He is regarded as a vigorous and effective speaker who does not avoid controversial issues. It goes without saying that his topic for March 6 is of peculiar interest and importance at this time.

COMMUNITY FUND FALLS $3,000 SHORT OF GOAL

The Winter Park Community Fund Drive closes today, $3,000 short. The failure to meet the goal was partly due to the unusual stretch of cold and rainy weather that occurred during the drive, but here is a set of figures to ponder:

Out of a winter population of 9,600 only 760 gifts were received. Incidentally, Orlando made its full quota in a week, and Winter Park has always considered itself the equal of Orlando.

One of the most pleasant aspects of the drive has been the appreciation that the colored residents have shown in it of the work that the agencies do for their people. The West Side Civic League contributed ten dollars and the Ideal Woman's Club five dollars.

Other organizations in the city made their usual generous contribution, and yet, if the roll could be called, too many individuals would be missing. Perhaps too many people do not realize yet that there is considerable poverty here in Winter Park, $3,000 is going to be missed in the coming year.

Tuesday morning two women in desperate need called on one of the Welfare Association workers. One has 11 children and a husband at work because of the citrus embargo. The other woman has four children and no husband. She was burned out last Fall. The children had nothing to eat that morning. Yes, they had been to the Welfare asking for help but the agency had had nothing to eat. Perhaps too many people do not realize yet that there is considerable poverty here in Winter Park, $3,000 is going to be missed in the coming year.

The Library of the Hispanic Institute of Winter Park is in the process of receiving new catalogues of books, a process that is being carried out on a regular basis. These catalogues are being received in both Spanish and English, and they are distributed to interested schools and adult centers in the area. Some new volumes of Spanish poetry have been received from South American publishers and from the department of Culture and Education of the Venezuelan government. Some very beautiful and rare volumes of the monuments and Indian inheritance in Mexico and South America are being donated, with the understanding that they will be cataloged and made available to the public.

The Librarian, Dr. Joseph D. Bolzani, has been working tirelessly to keep the library up to date. He has been involved in the cataloging of new subscriptions, which have been brought in from the library in usable form. Members of the Institute are looking forward to several more interesting and educational events during the current season. The next one will be on Monday, the 3rd of March, at 111 East Welbourne Avenue. Mrs. William E. Bowers, the President, will be inviting the members of the Institute as her guests. The first showing, anywhere in the state, of the movie films and slides of the famous Frenhouen, Louis Armand, who has traveled extensively, will be shown at this event.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE "ANIMATED MAGAZINE"

- Highlights of the "Animated Magazine" by Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese Ambassador to the United States:
  - "War must be won by military strength, but enduring peace can only be won by moral and intellectual enlightenment... education is indispensable to lasting world peace... education must now teach something more than the traditional loyalty to the country. There is need of a newer and larger loyalty to mankind as a whole."
  - By Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas: "World peace is possible. But too often it must be built up a strong faith that it can be done... a political approach alone will not suffice." By former Ambassador Alexander W. Weddell: quoted the British Prime Minister, "It would be a new world, a happy world, when to cross the national frontiers, the simple phrase: I love you—I am your friend would suffice as a passport."
  - By Wallace Trevor Holliday, President of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio: "It is unrealistic to ask nations to disarm unless some substitute security is provided. There is no substitute for the settling of international disputes by force except decisions of judicial tribunals established under law and government, having full power to enforce those decisions... a world government strong enough to enforce peace."
  - By Eldridge Haynes, Publisher, "Modern Industry": "If we want to see free enterprise work successfully for all the people, we must put business education on a plane equal to cultural and technical education. Whether the men and women now attending college are graduated with the sense of social responsibility and the competence to deal with the highly complicated problems of making free enterprise work for all the people depends upon the community as a whole."

MISSIONARIES TO REPORT FROM MICRONESIA
NEW LINK WITH SOUTH PACIFIC

The Marshalls and Carolines are important points in the building up of civil government for the natives of the South Pacific, which are now under United States (Naval) control. In order to know the conditions to be met, the United States Navy sent out an expedition in December to visit the islands. The report brought back by the commission, which returned the first of this month, stressed the conviction that the first matter was the re-establishment of missions and missionary work. In order to build up naval administration.

Rev. Clarence S. Gillett was taken along by the United States Navy on its tour of inspection. He will report in person on the trip when he appears for the Women's Union of the Congregational Christian Church on Tuesday evening, March 4, at 8 p.m. in the church. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Rev. and Mrs. Gillett have been missionaries of the American Board for twenty-five years. During the past five years Mr. Gillett has been working with the national Committee on Christian Democracy for work with Japanese ex-warriors. The Congregational Christian Church of Winter Park has just adopted Rev. Mr. Gillett as its own missionary. He is coming to make the acquaintance of his new sponsors.

This is a rare opportunity for the public to hear a report from an area which will be one of the key-areas in the new world order. And it is of great significance that the Navy and our own Government is realizing the influence of the missionaries in these islands in times past, and the need of re-building their strongholds for the future.

Baroness van Bocoup announced originally that the proceeds from the collection at the theatre for the films, which will be given at the Annie Russell Theatre on Sunday, March 2 at 8:15 P.M. One of the films to be shown, "Henry Matisse", is being exhibited for the first time in the U. S. This was made by the French Government at the request of Baroness van Bocoup and shows the famous painter at work. This is, in all probability, the first film that illustrates the making of a work of art from a new sheet of paper, through the preliminary sketches, to the finished picture.

The longer of the two films is adapted from a play by Luigi Pirandello and has Isa Miranda and Pierre Blanchard in the leading parts. The film shows the efforts of a man to escape from himself, from his very personality. This film was regarded as an enormous step forward in film technique when it was first shown, and is still far in advance of the general run of moving pictures.

RAMDOM NOTES

Mr. George Camp Keiser has just returned from Washington, D. C., where he attended a conference of the recently organized Middle East Institute. Among the topics discussed at the conference were: Oil, the role of the United States in this region, and Middle East Studies in Graduate and Undergraduate curricula.

The overall purpose of the Institute is to bring to the American people accurate and complete information on political, economic and social trends in the area, so far as it is available to the public. More specifically, the Institute has been established with the distinct purpose of fostering the education of Americans scheduled to be assigned to points in this part of the world, so that they will be more fully equipped for their duties.

The Middle East Institute is closely associated with the School of Advanced International Studies in Washington, which offers training on the graduate level to those going into foreign service.

Dedicated to the moral and spiritual up-building of our country, the Lutheran Hour each Sunday broadcasts a constructive, challenging message over more than 800 stations in the United States, Canada and thirty territories and foreign countries. The faith-strengthening, scripture-founded messages are now transmitted in English, Spanish and Portuguese.

The radio pastor who preaches these up-building Christ-centered messages is Dr. Walter A. Maier, professor of Old Testament at Concordia Theological Seminary, Saint Louis, Missouri.

The Lutheran Hour "the world's most welcome radio broadcast" is a regular feature each Sunday afternoon over Orlando's radio station WLOF at 1:30 o'clock. Programs are now being prepared to bring Christ's Gospel into scores of additional lands in dozens of new languages. By God's grace, the Lutheran Hour will during the coming months be permitted to play an even greater part to carry out the risen Savior's command to "go ... unto all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature."

Time in, and invite your friends and acquaintances to hear this powerful Gospel preacher!

SIX NATIONAL GROUPS UNITE TO WORK FOR WORLD GOVERNMENT AT ASHEVILLE CONVENTION

(Editors note: The following account of the recent convention of six prominent organizations working for world government was written by Mrs. Ashley G. Trope, who since last Fall has been attached to the New York staff of "Americana for United World Government" Mr. Trope, whose husband, Capt. Trope, was killed in the Philippines while on a routine military flight, is on a year's leave from the faculty of Rollins Conservatory of Music. She became a convert and active worker in the movement for world peace as a result of the world government conference at Asheville last year.

by Sally Hammond Trope

The snow covered mountain city of Asheville, North Carolina, was the mecca last week-end of over 500 delegates from all the major organizations in the United States working for world government. The convention was called for the purpose of merging and unifying their various efforts toward achieving a federal world government and to agree on a common policy. The results were resoundingly successful. Six groups, representing the largest and most active world government organizations with basically similar programs and objectives united in their effort and its effectiveness in the changing international situation.

The above program will be followed with great concentration and energy for the coming year. Another convention will be called within that period of time to survey the results of this concerted effort and its effectiveness in the changing international situation.

One real crisis arose during the convention and it was only after the most heated argument and patients discussion that it was resolved. The World Republic group of Evanston, Illinois, founded by student veterans who have been working with unbounded energy and enthusiasm for about a year, insisted that world government could be attained by either of two methods. They favored the calling of a people's world constitutional convention as being more practical than the amendment-of-the-constitutions-by-laws approach strongly favored by the other five organizations. To achieve the needed unity of policy which inspired the convention, Norman Conklin acted as intermediary and was successful in persuading the World Republic group to concede to the overwhelming pressure exerted by the other five organizations.

Each group nominated thirty delegates to the joint council which convened for the advancement of the cause. They agreed on a common policy. The results were resoundingly successful.

The six prominent organizations working for world government include:

Better Government, World Republic, World Federalists, Citizens of Georgia. All agreed in this Statement of Beliefs:

"We believe that peace is not merely the absence of war but the presence of justice, of law, of order, in short, of government and the institutions of government; that world peace can be created under world law, universal and strong enough to prevent armed conflict between nations."

They also agreed to the following Statement of Purposes:

"Therefore, while endorsing the efforts of the United Nations to bring about a world community favorable to peace, we will work primarily to strengthen the United Nations into a world government of limited powers adequate to prevent war and having direct jurisdiction over the individual in matters within its field of competence."
